Didsbury Association Picnic At Stanley Park, Vancouver

Mrs. S. J. Hardy, of Vancouver informs us by mail that the Annual Picnic of the Didsbury Association will be held at Stanley Park, Vancouver on Wednesday, July 27th, and all local visitors or old-time residents of Didsbury and district, visiting the coast city and able to connect with that date, will be made heartily welcome.

Better Buy Your Fishing License!

A bunch of boys from town went to the Raven on Sunday, intent on fishing. They were having a good time, but their party was spoilt when along came a fish warden and asked to see their licenses. They each had to cough up $2.25.

Dog Owners Take Note!

Recently the provincial legislature passed a law forbidding the running at large of retriever dogs, except in certain areas. Dog owners are permitting this to happen and so are breaking a law.

Nests of pheasants and prairie chickens are being broken up and the eggs destroyed by such dogs.

Word has been received of the death of Mr. John Kaufman, father of Mr. Frank Kaufman. He died on Sunday, June 12th at Midland, Ontario. He was known to many people here and they will regret to hear of his passing.

Camp Meeting.

Evangelists, Gordon Wishart & Wile

The Annual Camp Meeting in connection with the M.B.C. Church will be held in the grounds of the Bible School from July 1st to 10th. Rev. Gordon Wishart and wife will be the evangelists who conduct the meetings.

The meetings will be held in the big, brown tent and accommodation will be made for visitors.

Rev. C. J. Hallman will have charge of the camp meeting.

Lightning Strikes School House

Lightning struck Grand Centre schoolhouse at about 7 o'clock on Wednesday evening last. Fortunately it was after school hours and there was nobody in the building at the time of the storm.

The chimney was split from top to bottom, and damage is estimated at about $100.00, the loss being covered by insurance.

LOCAL & GENERAL

Miss A. Black was in Calgary visitor last week end.

Messrs H. P. Hardy and H. Lynch-Staunton motored to Sylvan Lake over the week end. They reported a large crowd of people at the Lake on Sunday.

A meeting of the Canadian Legion, Didsbury branch, will be held on Saturday, June 25th. Lieut. Col. P. R. Shields, M.C. of Calgary will address the meeting.

Mr. G. A. Burns shipped this week, 10 head of purebred red polled heifers to the R.C. Mission at Grouard, Peace River. They will be used as a foundation herd on the mission farm.

The flaming star of the screen in "Inspiration," at the Opera House Monday next. A picture with a soul-thrill! Gorgeous Greta in silks and satins! Co-stars, Lewis Stone and Robert Montgomery.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Young, of St. Cloud, Florida, who are former residents of Alberta, are visiting their daughter, Mrs. Clyde Bulg and family, west of town. They will spend about a month here and will visit with relatives in B.C. and Washington.

Charlie Mortimer and Bill McFarquhar went out fishing in the Big Red territory on Sunday. Charlie says they found the best fishing hole in the country, catching three right away, but they were driven out by a thunder-storm. Such is the luck of fishermen.

Frank Jackson was exhibiting a big Dolly Varden trout which he caught in the Big Red on Sunday. The fish measured 27 inches long and weighed 5 1/2 lbs. dressed. Frank says he was using one of Mac's special pearl spinners when he hooked the big one.

The teachers of Didsbury High and Public Schools have all been re-engaged for the 1952-53 term. High School: Mr. A. Russell, Principal; Miss I. Grant and Mr. A. Reiter, Public School: Mr. C. R. Ford, Principal; Misses N. Wilson, A. Black and R. Liesemer

The 28th Anniversary services at Westdale United Church were held Sunday last and were largely attended by both country people and townfolk. Special music was rendered and Mr. H. O. Tonjans sang "Open the Gates of the Temple" and "The Holy City." Mr. H. W. Chambers conveyed greetings from the Didsbury church. Rev. A. J. Mitchell conducted the service.

Mr. J. R. Miller, agent of the Sun Life Assurance Co., left recently to attend the Company's Annual Convention, held this year at Murray Bay, Quebec. Only three men in southern Alberta were successful in qualifying for this outing and Mr. Miller was fortunate in being one of those three. En route east he will visit friends at Edmonton, Melville, Winnipeg, Fort Frances, Toronto, Meaford, and St. Helen's. His return trip will be by way of the States, to Chicago, Minneapolis, Duluth, and home by way of Calgary.

WEDDING.

MUELLER-DAWN.

A beautiful and interesting wedding was solemnized at the Zion Evangelical Church, Didsbury on Wednesday, June 15th, when Anna Helena Mueller, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Wm. G. Mueller, of Didsbury, became the bride of Mr. Walter Dawn, of Ghost Pine Creek, Rev. H. J. Wood officiating.

The church was tastefully decorated for the occasion with a profusion of cut flowers. The pews for the invited guests were designated with bows of tulle and miniature floral sprays. As the strains of the Bridal Chorus from Lehengrin were being played by Miss Laura Liesemer, the bride entered the church on the arm of her brother, Mr. Robert Mueller, who gave her in marriage. She made a striking picture in her gown of white satin, with long, flowing lines, the long bridal veil being caught close to the head with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses.

The bride was attended by Miss Ethel Burgess, of Calgary, who wore a pleasing ensemble of pink georgette, with picture hat to match, and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Little Marguerite Fisher, niece of the bride made a most dainty little flower girl, in an attractive frock of flowered voile, with a matching pink hat. She carried a basket of rose petals, which she strewn along the pathway of the bride.

The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Arthur Dawn, of Ghost Pine Creek. During the signing of the register, Mr. Otto Mueller, brother of the bride, sang "At Dawning."

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mrs. A. C. Fisher, sister of the bride. The rooms were suitably decorated with cut flowers, while the bride's table was centred with the large three-tier wedding cake. Above it hung a large, white wedding veil.

The guests were received by Mrs. Fisher, who wore an attractive gown of flowered chiffon. A delightful lunch was served, after which Mrs. H. J. Wood sang "Oh, Promise Me." Mrs. Taylor, of Calgary, poured tea and Mrs. J. V. Berscht cut the ices.

After the reception the happy couple left by car for a two weeks' honeymoon at Banff, Lake Louise, Sault Ste. Marie, and other points. The bride travelled in a tawn, wool georgette dress, with a hat of brown straw. Her travelling coat was of brown tweed. Mr. and Mrs. Dawn will be at home to their many friends at their farm at Ghost Pine Creek after July 15th.

The bride's gift to her bridesmaid was a dainty, silver mesh-bag.

The out-of-town guests included: Mrs. (Dr.) H. G. Taylor, Mr. Barney Taylor, Miss Betty Taylor and Miss Softball.

The final game in the Legion Softball Tournament was played on Monday night between the High School and Russell Berscht's Didsbury All-Stars, with the students losing out 9-5. Errors in the first two innings gave the juniors a lead of three runs to none and the third frame saw the All-Stars trailing 3-2.

From that point the Berscht aggregation settled down and solved Holub's delivery for 10 hits for 7 runs in the last six innings, while the students only managed to gather two more. The climax in the final spasm had the fans on edge and pulling for the kids. Brusso made 1st on an infield error and went to 2nd on Gulliver's single. Holub walked, to fill the bases and Booker fled out to third. With Leonard Berscht up, excitement ran high and visions of the High School team tying the score. However, the batter elected to hunt and Brusso was easily thrown out at the homeplate on a forced run. Fred Evans was thrown out at 1st to end the game. High School: L. Berscht, F. Evans, Honey, C. Geiger, R. Gulliver, H. Gulliver, Brusso, Holub and P. Booker.

All-Stars: R. Berscht, Woodcock, Wyman, Cook, A. Russell, Keith, R. Goeder, Weston, D. Edwards.

Jim Morris, A. Russell, Larry Leavens, Gene Axtell, Harold Bliss, Geo. McKenzie Graves and Mrs. Axtell drove to the Raven on Sunday to visit the Axtell Ranch.

The Albright Brotherhood of the Evangelical Church held its first meeting over Berscht's store Tuesday evening, when there were thirty-five members present. The lecture by Dr. H. C. Liesemer on "The Divine Plan of the Great Pyramid" was much appreciated. Lunch was served and a novelty was introduced by auctioning off the remaining cakes and flowers. The officers of the club are: President, Mr. E. Bostiger; Vice-President, Mr. G. O. Feeg; Secretary, Mr. H. C. Rennie; Treasurer, Mr. R. Berscht. The meetings will be held monthly.

Ethel Burgess, all of Calgary; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mueller, Mr. Otto Mueller, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. King, Miss Eva King, Mr. A. W. Dawn, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McCubbin, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Curry and Mrs. O. H. Moore, all of Ghost Pine Creek.

A Message From The Prince

In January of this year, the Prince of Wales addressed a message to the youth of Great Britain at a large meeting held in the Royal Albert Hall, London, England. That message is just as applicable to the youth of Canada as it is to the youth of the Old Land, and we, therefore, reproduce the speech, in part, as follows:

Youth cannot long remain a spectator of life, it will only be a short time before the work of the world will be placed on your shoulders to carry. Many tasks wait for your help; knowledge to be discovered, open spaces to be peopled, natural resources to be developed, sickness to be conquered, and wrongs to be righted. With these high quests before you, you will realize that the mere acquisition of material things is not in itself the fulfilment of an individual or a national purpose, and is as little, compared with the satisfaction derived from your own effort, especially when that effort advances human welfare and happiness.

I want you to understand that we are not just facing a few months of "grim and bear it," but that we must get into training for a long period of work—hard work and effort, sustained despite possible discouragements. You must be prepared, as others have been before, to "endure for the duration," without asking how much may in the long run be required of you.

You cannot hope to influence directly the trend of international affairs, but close at hand is a domestic problem, vast and baffling if looked at in the mass, though easier to help when broken up into individual pieces. It is made up of men and women, boys and girls. I am, as you will have guessed, thinking of unemployment. I am thinking none the less in terms of economies not of politics but of each member of the unemployed population as a single, separate personality, beset by depression, labouring under a sense of frustration and futility—a blank wall in front of him which he can neither climb over nor scramble round. My appeal here is not to statesmen, nor even to philanthropists, but to all those who are in work to play the part of neighbour and friend to the man out of work. That is the open road of duty and a short cut to happiness all round. There is no central machinery here in London that can provide a substitute for the good neighbour.

The enemy today is depression and apathy. Let us attack them with two of our old-fashioned characteristics: good sense and good humour. I believe there are groups of the unemployed here and there, dead sick of prolonged idleness, who are themselves feeling out toward ways of giving their skilled labour in co-operative effort for the help of others in need. It is up to us to back such attempts with every possible support. Get together wherever this burden lies heaviest, face up to the most urgent local need, and see if the community on the spot cannot make its own self-directed contribution toward this vast problem. So far as is humanly possible let us break it up into little pieces and refuse to be browbeaten into paralysis by its size. I am talking, I repeat, neither on the economic nor on the political plane, but on the humane plane of simple friendship in those places where the clouds are darkest, where the pits are closed or the furnaces damped down. What matter if some trifling blunder is committed here or some project fails there. The very attempt of the community to achieve some social betterment for the sake of the workless in their midst will lift the general level of hope and make easier every national solution by statesmen and economists.

The world passed into a new age with the end of the Great War. Never was a new age born in greater agony, nor in a more difficult environment for healthy and normal growth. What we make of it as a democracy is of vital concern not only to ourselves but to the whole world.

The message that I have tried to give you is a twofold one. First, for a fresh response to national service, for a greater spirit of unselfish and adventurous helpfulness in the midst of problems which our ablest men find difficult to unravel.

The second point is that the opportunity for service is at our door—in our own village, in our own town.

Canadian Tobacco Exports

Dominion Largest Exporter In Empire

Of Tobacco To Great Britain
Canada in the first four months of 1932 has definitely established herself as the largest exporter among countries of the Empire of manufactured tobacco to Great Britain.

From January to April, a report of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics shows, Canada exported 4,892,315 pounds of tobacco compared with 2,869,760 pounds for the same period of 1930. The total imports into Great Britain aggregated 43,206,021 pounds for the four months, with British Empire countries supplying 10,675,083 pounds.

Canadian Bacon For Britain

Mother Country Buys More Bacon

From Canada Than From U.S.
Great Britain is at present buying more bacon from Canada than from the United States. A report issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics shows that imports of bacon into Great Britain from Canada, not including hams, in the first four months of this year totalled 5,727,500 pounds. In 1930 the imports were 3,713,700 pounds, but they dropped to 490,500 pounds in the same period of 1931.

In the first four months of 1930, British imports from the United States amounted to 25,811,000 pounds. This dropped in the same period of 1931 to 8,925,566 pounds and in 1932 to 2,669,769.

Will Use Bay Route

Famous French Grain Firm Will Make Big Shipment Of Wheat

Dreyfus, famous French grain firm, has purchased a quarter of a million bushels of wheat in western Canada, that will be shipped this season over the Hudson Bay route to France. It was definitely learned from official sources. Through a New York agency the French firm has completed the purchase of the grain and gave the first sign of connection between important grain firms over the use of the new Bay route in shipping grain to European ports. Already nearly two million bushels have been shipped to Churchill for the Continental Grain Company. This grain will export at least one million bushels this summer.

L. B. Cusick, Canadian president of the Continental Grain Company, is making a strong effort to obtain cargoes for the four or five boats his company will bring into Churchill this summer for the shipment of their grain.

"If a reasonable amount of incoming cargo can be obtained and the insurance rates lowered slightly, the Hudson Bay route is a cinch," he declared in an interview.

"We firmly believe the insurance rates will be cut this summer, and we expect the people of western Canada to support their new seaport to the extent of obtaining incoming cargoes," he said.

Trains On Rubber Tires

Forerunner Of A New Era In Rail Comfort

The pneumatic-tired railroad coach which made a test trip from Cleveland to Akron and return this week may easily prove a forerunner of a new era in rail comfort. Trunk lines are speeding up their schedules. Palace car builders are getting away from steel-tired interiors. The pounding of steel wheels on steel rails may ultimately be outlawed as needless.

Railroads in general have been slow to copy devices which give their competitors advantages in the race for business. But the reasons what they may—and some of them, are obvious enough—rail lines have suffered by the motor industry's avid adoption and improvement of such advances as rubber tires, light engines, less rigid schedules, better coach construction and other factors. A liberal public attitude toward the use of highways is part of the story.

Tires of rubber, and particularly air-inflated tires, have played a large part in a transportation evolution. If railroads can make use of them, as recent experimentation indicates they hope to, some check may be put on the trek of passengers from rail to highways. Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Possibility Of Oil In Northern Alberta

Geologists Believe Ancient Rock Formations Are An Indication

Rock formations in the northern section of Alberta indicate possibilities of oil in commercial quantities. This opinion was expressed at Ottawa before the Royal Society of Canada when a number of geologists described the districts of Mountain Park, Peace River, Wainwright and Viking as containing marine sediments. This would indicate, they said, the character once formed a part of the vast ocean that covered what now forms the three prairie provinces. The rocky formations are about 150,000,000 years old.

Contract Bridge

By Hamilton B. Hatch, Canadian Club, Toronto

Systems In Contract

The average contract bridge player, at the present time is agog over the controversy raging around the different systems of playing. There are four principal systems now being exploited by their different sponsors. In order of importance they rank as follows:

1st. The Approach-Forcing System (Sponsored by Culbertson).

2nd. The Official System (Sponsored by Lenz of Al).

3rd. The One Over One (Sponsored by Geo. Reith and The Knickerbocker Whist Club).

4th. The Vanderbilt Club (Sponsored by Harold Vanderbilt).

A system in Contract may be defined as an attempt to put into a form easy to learn, the methods the good card player have always used. This being so, it is certain that, as most card players use the same methods with slight variations, any system can differ from any other system only slightly. And this is so. The variations in the four systems are slight.

The good contract player is, as a rule, familiar with all the systems, and can, if asked to do so, play any system his partner desires to use.

The Approach-Forcing System

The salient points of the Approach-Forcing System are as follows:

1st. The opening bid of one which must have a minimum of 2½ honor tricks and four playing tricks.

2nd. The weak no trump takeout by the partner of the original bidder. This is made on a maximum of one and one-half honor tricks and a minimum of one honor trick in an exceptional case of less than one honor trick.

3rd. The Takeout denies normal support in all originally bid and practically warns partner that for that particular deal, the partnership must be satisfied with partial score. Further it discloses the fact that, as a rule, the responding hand is balanced, i.e., contains no void suit or singleton.

4th. The Jump-Suit Response. This is a jump bid in a suit other than the suit originally bid and is a demand bid requiring the partnership to be satisfied with partial score.

5th. The Original Two Bid. Based on one and one-half honor tricks and a minimum and demands that bidding be kept open by partnership until game contract is arrived at. The tendency lately, among users of this system is to limit the two bid to hands which will make game with even less than one honor trick in partner's hand.

6th. The Jump Overall. A jump bid made in a suit other than the suit originally bid and is a strong invitation to partner of the overcaller to keep the bidding open provided partner has the equivalent of one honor trick. If however the overcaller's partner has less than one honor trick he may pass.

7th. The Informative Double. A double made as an overall and demands a response from partner. If double is provided there is no intervening bid. It is usually made with strength in the major suits and is a fighting not a defensive bid. With the balance of strength in the hand of the doubler's partner, game is likely to be the hand.

8th. The Overall by the opponents of the suit bid originally by the responder. If the opening bid is one heart and the opponent's overall is two hearts, such an overall is made with strength in the heart suit and is a fighting not a defensive bid. With the balance of strength in the hand of the doubler's partner, game is likely to be the hand.

9th. The Overall by the opponents of the suit bid originally by the responder. If the opening bid is one heart and the opponent's overall is two hearts, such an overall is made with strength in the heart suit and is a fighting not a defensive bid. With the balance of strength in the hand of the doubler's partner, game is likely to be the hand.

10th. The Overall by the opponents of the suit bid originally by the responder. If the opening bid is one heart and the opponent's overall is two hearts, such an overall is made with strength in the heart suit and is a fighting not a defensive bid. With the balance of strength in the hand of the doubler's partner, game is likely to be the hand.

11th. The Overall by the opponents of the suit bid originally by the responder. If the opening bid is one heart and the opponent's overall is two hearts, such an overall is made with strength in the heart suit and is a fighting not a defensive bid. With the balance of strength in the hand of the doubler's partner, game is likely to be the hand.

12th. The Overall by the opponents of the suit bid originally by the responder. If the opening bid is one heart and the opponent's overall is two hearts, such an overall is made with strength in the heart suit and is a fighting not a defensive bid. With the balance of strength in the hand of the doubler's partner, game is likely to be the hand.

13th. The Overall by the opponents of the suit bid originally by the responder. If the opening bid is one heart and the opponent's overall is two hearts, such an overall is made with strength in the heart suit and is a fighting not a defensive bid. With the balance of strength in the hand of the doubler's partner, game is likely to be the hand.

14th. The Overall by the opponents of the suit bid originally by the responder. If the opening bid is one heart and the opponent's overall is two hearts, such an overall is made with strength in the heart suit and is a fighting not a defensive bid. With the balance of strength in the hand of the doubler's partner, game is likely to be the hand.

DEFINITE HELP FOR DWELLERS IN APARTMENTS

Odorless way found to cook fish, cauliflower and cabbage

CANAPAR IS A PRODUCT OF HAMILTON FIRM

Lives there a woman, in apartment, duplex or home, who has not at some time or other reluctantly broiled fish, cabbage, and cauliflower because if the odors they give off when being cooked? Or who has not suffered from other people close by who cooked these foods regardless?

Canapar entirely does away with this annoyance. More than that, it actually improves flavor and food value. Cooking in Canapar parallels the famous French method of steaming and confining food and its flavours to the closed casserole. Canapar comes in large sheets, in a handy-size package. When boiling vegetables you simply wet the sheet of Canapar and make a bag similar to a pudding bag. If you are steaming them you line your steamer with Canapar, arrange food and seasoning, and foil back corners of the Canapar to prevent steam from dripping back.

Boiled or steamed fish is particularly delicious done this way. No fishy odor in the kitchen, no gummy taste to clean. When steaming meat, the lean part of the meat is protected from drying out by burning, and eliminates scorching of the pan afterwards.

Canapar saves time. You can cook three vegetables simultaneously in the same steamer with it, without intermingling of flavors. And it is very economical. Just rinse the sheet after using it, hang it on the towel rack to dry. Use it over and over again.

Lots of women use Canapar for a dish cloth—it is so soft and satisfactory and so easy to wash. It is a very good use if you happen to pierce the sheet of Canapar while testing the food during the cooking process. The famous makers of PARASANI the famous heavy waxed paper in the Green Book.

Special Offer. Most grocers, druggists and department stores sell Canapar. If you don't, send the coupon direct, we'll give you a new and unique book entitled "Efficiency" containing one hundred recipes as a bonus for your trouble.

Applied Paper Products, Ltd., Hamilton, Ontario.

Scientists At Ottawa Suggest That There Be Two Major Divisions Of Geological Time

Standard time consisting of eons, eras, suberas and periods is the aim of the national committee on stratigraphic nomenclature. Dr. F. J. Alcock, of the geological survey of Canada, chairman, told Section 4 of the Royal Society of Canada meeting at Ottawa.

It is the opinion of the committee that geological time previous to the development of abundant life on the earth's surface is at least as great as geological time from that development until the present moment. The suggestion is that, therefore, there should be two major divisions, and that these be known as "eons."

Seven hundred million years was the estimate of some members of the section of the length of the latter eon, and they thought the former to be much longer. Granite rocks in Manitoba, have been stated to have an age of 2,000,000,000 years.

At the same session a paper by Prof. J. S. Dehury, of the University of Manitoba, speculated on the earth's development and composition. The belief expressed was that the centre of the earth consists of heavy, dense metallic substances; that its crust consisted of lighter rocks and that it between lies the great zone of fowage and adjustments. The earth Prof. Dehury stated, is losing heat in exceptionally large amounts from certain more or less restricted belts of the earth's surface. Once, millions of years ago, the escape of heat in this way occurred in Canada; now it is chiefly in the vicinity of the Hawaiian Islands in the Pacific Ocean. Supporting his thesis, Prof. Dehury reported that the temperature rises one degree every 400 feet down in the Froid mine of Northern Ontario. In Hawaii the temperature rises one degree in every 50 feet.

How aerial photography has achieved results for geologists which on foot they would have been years in securing was shown by D. A. Nichols, of the geological survey, who exhibited an unusual series of photographs taken in the Pacific Ocean. Air Force. In these pictures, taken chiefly in the Albatross, Great Bear and Great Slave Lake and Arctic areas of Canada, land forms such as faults, dykes, folds, fjords, eskers and beaches (formed years ago) were clearly defined and some were shown to extend for many miles. Some of these were recognized from descriptions given by members of the geological survey as many as 30 years ago.

Further light, of value to miners and prospectors, of British Columbia, was thrown on the body of granite rocks known as the Coast Batholith, which extends 1,200 miles from a point near the international boundary northwest and eastward into Alaska. The survey work of the geological survey, which began in this area as far back as 1851, has provided additional information year by year. Once it was thought the possibilities of finding valuable deposits were as good in one part of the area as another. The geological survey is indicating where the prospects are good and where they are not. Detailed studies, for instance, have shown that mineral deposits occur associated with certain types of rock and the mapping of these areas provides valuable guides.

Authors of papers given were Dr. Forrest Kerr, of the geological survey; Dr. S. J. Schofield, of the University of British Columbia; and Dr. H. C. Gunning, also of the geological survey.

Lessons By Radio

Use Of Broadcasting To Further Education In The West

The use of radio broadcasting to extend the benefits of university training was urged upon the 15th national conference of Canadian universities at Ottawa by Professor E. A. Corbett, director of extra-mural relations at the University of Alberta, and conductor of the university's radio station, CKUA. This university has been a pioneer in the use of the radio for educational purposes in Canada and has developed a considerable volume of educational broadcasting which covers practically the whole province.

Professor Corbett recently appeared before the parliamentary committee on radio broadcasting with a brief prepared in the interest of educational broadcasting and had made a study of this work in those sections of the United States in which this work has been carried on to a considerable extent.

Some of the work of Canadian universities, aimed at making Canada a truly bilingual country, was described.

The subject of the first session was "Modern Language Teaching," and dealt almost entirely with the teaching of French in English universities, and the teaching of English in French speaking universities.

Abbe Alexander Vachon, Laval University, observed that practically every Quebec member of the House of Commons could express himself adequately in the English language, and that many could speak with equal facility in either language. At Laval an attempt was made to give every graduate a complete mastery of the English language, even though he might enter the college with no English.

The British Way

Right Of Free Speech Not Curtailed In Hyde Park

While the great American people—followed by the great Canadian people in their turn—are falling over themselves to put down the right of free speech when it is even faintly suspected that there may be a tinge of red in it, it is refreshing to read that in the land of true liberty they do things differently.

Word comes in the English press of the Communist celebrations in London on May Day. Hyde Park was filled with Communists, 30 speeches were made simultaneously, and great resolutions passed. Then they went home. No one was injured and the police merely looked on—Vancouver Province.

Damascus, Syria, is said to be the oldest city in the world.

A FASCINATING MODEL—DOES FOR SHEER COTTONS AS WELL AS THOSE OF STURDIER CHARACTER

Nautical blue and white print in batiste, because it is so popular, is chosen by this smart junior. And don't you think it is effective? The yoked bodice and inset at the front to simulate a bolero are of plain batiste. It tones with the blue shade.

Other schemes such as yellow and white in pique, striped cotton weave in red, white and blue with plain white and plain pink sportswear; linen with white handkerchief linen dotted in pink used for contrast are noticeable.

Style No. 433 is designed for sizes 6, 8, 10 and 12 years. Size 8 requires 1½ yards of 35-inch material with 1½ yard of 35-inch contrasting and 1½ yard of binding.

Price of pattern 25 cents in stamps or coin (coin is preferred). Wrap coin carefully.

Canadian Radio League Officials Regret That Salaried Commission Will Conduct Broadcast System

Noise May Accompany Auroral Display Possibility Being Studied By Royal Society Of Canada

The question of whether sounds sometimes accompany auroral displays in the sky came in for discussion before section three of the Royal Society of Canada at Ottawa.

Just because the currently held belief as to the cause and nature of aurora does not provide for any sound to be heard, Dr. J. S. Flaxie, director of the astrophysical observatory on Vancouver Island and the holder of the Flavelle medal of the Royal Society of Canada for 1932, thinks that the great body of evidence that sounds have been heard should not be discarded.

He read a paper before the section, prepared by Dr. C. S. Beals, of the observatory staff, in which it was stated that the only interpretation of the observations which seems to fit all the facts is that both the sounds and low level apparitions sometimes reported are real and that they constitute normal though perhaps unusual accompaniments of other auroral phenomena.

"If this is so," it is stated further, "there must be some definite physical process taking place close to the earth's surface which is able to produce the effects that have been observed. The aurora has long been considered to be electrical in origin and the hypothesis that the auroral sounds and low level displays are due to some sort of electrical discharge near the surface of the earth seems a very reasonable one."

Assist Poultrymen

Hon. Robert Weir, Minister Of Agriculture, Promises Continuation Of Government Aid

Continuation of the assistance given by the government to poultry breeders desirous of securing registered cockerels for their flocks, was announced by Hon. Robert Weir, Minister of Agriculture. The assistance amounts to transportation charges and a sum of $1.25 per bird toward the purchase price providing the cockerels pass the inspection tests and are shipped in lots of ten or more.

The purchases must be made from bona fide breeders entered under the federal policy of registration or record of performance. There is no restriction to the sale price.

Wealth Hoarded In States

Money estimated to amount to $1-300,000,000 is being hoarded by Americans in the United States, President Hoover, in a recent appeal for the release of this money, stated that every dollar thus hoarded was equal to the destruction of from five to ten dollars in credit.

Regret that a salaried commission was to be appointed to conduct Canada's proposed new radio broadcasting system was expressed by officials of the Canadian Radio League, which organization was largely instrumental in the presentation to the parliamentary committee of the basis for the radio policy adopted at the session just concluded. It had been felt by the league that the commission should be composed of voluntary workers, "thus ensuring greater freedom from political interference, and constituting a buffer between the government and the operating organization."

A statement was issued by Allan Plamont, honorary secretary, following a meeting at Ottawa at which it was shown that the organization had been financed, since its inception 18 months ago, at a total cost of $5,000, more than half of which, Mr. Plamont said, was contributed by members of the executive.

The league will remain in existence as a "watchdog and friendly critic" of the proposed "Canadian Radio Broadcasting Commission." It was stated, and will branch out with a view to securing more members and a wider organization.

Satisfaction was expressed at the successful conclusion of the campaign directed by the league and at the terms of the Radio bill adopted by parliament, except that it was felt, if salaries were to be paid the commissioners, they should be larger than those provided. The legislation authorized a salary of $10,000 for the chairman and $8,000 for the two commissioners.

Graham Spry, chairman of the league, said that the salary of the chairman did not equal that paid either responsible business positions or leading university presidents. The commission would handle as much as $4,000,000 a year, he said and would be controlling programmes that would be listened to by the whole of Canada for a number of hours a day. Spry's responsibility should be vested only in the most intelligent and competent hands, "but the commission, as proposed, cut off the possibility of voluntary services and does not give enough to ensure that, at least the chairman will be an experienced and responsible man," he said.

Indian Athlete

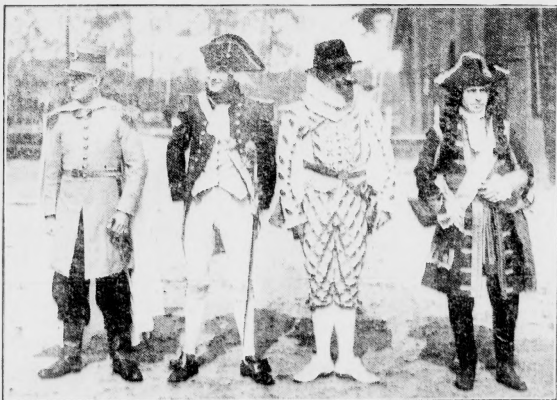

Native At Fort Chipewyan Makes High Jump Record

Canadian Olympic committee officials seeking point winners for the Los Angeles games might well turn to latent material among Indian tribes in the Northwest Territories if an athletic record in the Royal Canadian Mounted Police annual report is accurate.

According to Inspector H. Royal-Gagnon, a young Indian whom he does not name jumped six feet one inch at a field meet held at Fort Chipewyan. Knowing nothing of the high jumping art, the Indian, he inspects relates, "just pumpe over."

Some Counter

"My husband is a real prize to the bank," said the boastful wife of a bank clerk. "The way in which he handles money is truly wonderful. He counts them like lightning, without ever making a mistake." "Really?" said the friend to whom the statement was made. "Never a mistake at all?" "No, well, at least he is never out more than a few cents."

The brilliant display which will be witnessed this month, when the Aldershot Tattoo takes place in England, can be judged from the frequent photographs of the elaborate preparations which are reaching Canada. A Good Neighbor?

The United States is not a good neighbor to Canada. She is a big, greedy nation, utterly insensitive to Canadian interests and feelings. The sooner Canada realizes the full truth of this statement and shapes herself accordingly, the better it will be for the Dominion.

The United States government, although we are her best customers, callously closes trade doors in our face, heedless of the disturbance caused. Recently, tariff laws passed Congress preventing exports of Canadian lumber and Canadian copper to her territory. This is but one of many similar instances. U.S. tariff laws wiped out Canadian trade of around $150,000,000 in farm products within the past ten years. This last enactment wipes out a lumber and copper trade of thirty million dollars.

The United States is disliked and vilified the world over, because she is as insensitive of other nations' interests as is one of her fat Iowa hogs. Canada has been her one good friend and well-wisher, but we might as well fall in line with the rest of the world-nations. Apparently the American Eagle does not want friends.

The United States Congress would cut Canada's throat, in a business sense, without the slightest hesitation, if it would gain a paltry handful of dollars for some piddling, little interest in an obscure state of that union. The United States has no consideration for Canada.

—Hanna Herald.

Necessary Cost Of Government

What do Governments do with all the money? To people who constantly ask this question, we suggest an examination of a return tabled in Parliament recently. What it shows is that in pensions alone, Canada last year paid out $65,636,268. More than a million-and-a-quarter dollars each week.

War pensions alone are now taking over $46,000,000 annually. On top of that there are Old Age Pensions, pensions for retired civil servants, pensions for retired judges, pensions for others.

All of us asked for these pensions, supported them. No one certainly begrudges the pensions that go to war veterans, but it is well that occasionally we be reminded of what we are doing, of the money that is involved.

There are people who want to have their cake, yet eat it. They are for all sorts of government and states services, for all sorts of social and progressive legislation, yet they are the same people who are forever crying out that governments should economize.

The truth is that in the matter of nearly three-fourths of the money it pays out, the Dominion Government can't economize. Can't economize, that is, unless Parliament repeals Parliament's own statutes. The Government can't cut on war or old age pensions; can't cut on the interest on the public debt (which is about $120,000,000 a year); can't cut on a score of other things.

Sometimes we think it a great pity that the average citizen lacks time and inclination, or perhaps opportunity, to read the public accounts. If he could read them it would make him a little less critical of government expenditure, perhaps a little less inclined to shout for every proposal somebody makes for some new legislation that involves new government expenditure.

Calgary Exhibition, Stamped, Week of July 11th to 16th.

Calgary Exhibition & Stampede will be held this year on July 11th to 16th and will include the most outstanding program ever engaged for Calgary's annual celebration. It will require all available space on the Exhibition Grounds to house the exhibits. The Stampede will once more bring together the most outstanding riders of this Continent and approximately, twenty districts will be represented in the Chuck Wagon Race.

The week's celebration will open with the Mammoth Stamped Parade at 10 o'clock on Monday morning, which each year is much enjoyed by between fifty and sixty thousand people. Judging of livestock will be done Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. On Friday morning the livestock review will be staged in front of the grandstand. Last year between thirteen and fourteen thousand people packed the grandstand and enclosure to witness this new spectacle. This year, Burns & Co., Ltd. are presenting a Dartmoor Pony from the Prince of Wales' Ranch; the North Star Oil Co., Ltd. is presenting a Shetland Pony; and the Ontario Laundry is presenting two dogs to boys and girls under 16 years of age, who are present at the review. Free tickets of admission will be distributed to them in the various schools within a radius of fifty miles of Calgary, and any teacher outside that area may obtain tickets for school boys and girls of that age by writing to the Exhibition Manager.

The Grandstand Performance includes a most wonderful production entitled "Canada Marching On," which will be participated in by about 150 artists and which includes some of the best vaudeville features ever engaged for the Calgary Fair.

The Running Race program this year will be for seven days, and commences on Saturday afternoon, July 9th, before the Exhibition opens.

The week's features will include: morning street displays on Tuesday, Thursday and Friday mornings; the Cowboy & Old-Timers' Ball on Friday night, and one of the greatest fireworks programs ever given, on Saturday night.

Special passenger fares of fare-and-a-quarter will be in force from Alberta, Saskatchewan and British Columbia mainland points. A free accommodation booth will be located in front of the C.P.R. Station, where hotel or private rooms may be obtained.

ITEMS OF INTEREST

Canadians will subscribe to the declaration of the Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas that the chief duty of the Empire Conference is to get for the Empire more trade and freer trade.

Only one more judge in Alberta will be needed to fill present vacancies and provide adequately for the court work of the province, in the opinion of Premier Brannlee. An appointment would be necessary at the Peace River district, he said, because of the distance and growth of that part of the province.

Visitors to Canadian National Parks during the past year numbered more than 540,000. The parks, 18 in number, have a total area of 12,059 sq. mls., the largest being Jasper National Park, on the east slope of the Rockies, covering an area of 4,200 sq. mls. During the year there were 440 mls. of motor highways, 2,492 mls. of trails, and 1,033 mls. of telephone lines under maintenance in the parks. As a means of aiding the unemployed, considerable work has been given them in the various parks, consisting of grading and gravelling streets and roads around the townsites, etc., etc. As an attraction for tourists, the National Parks of Canada are rapidly coming to the fore, and the easy accessibility to them by rail has materially assisted in bringing them to the attention of travellers both in Canada and the U.S.

Fares at the lowest level in years and with generous time allowance for use of return portions of tickets will apply on Canadian railroads.

over the Dominion Day holiday. July 1st. Return tickets will be sold by the railways at the rate of one-and-a-quarter times the one-way first-class fare, good between stations in Canada. Going portions of these tickets will be good from noon on Thursday, June 30th until noon on Sunday, July 3rd and return portions good on trains on July 4th. Dominion Day falling this year on a Friday provides another "long week-end" holiday and Canadian railways are anticipating passenger travel over the holiday will set up new records.

Reduced freight rates for the movement of cattle in quantities less than full carloads have been established by the railways according to an announcement made by the Canadian Freight Association on Monday. Heretofore a livestock shipper has been required to ship or pay for 20,000 lbs. in the case of cattle and 16,000 lbs. in the case of hogs and sheep, in order to ship under the carload rates. The new schedules, which became effective June 15th, provide for additional rates, subject to minimum weights of 12,000 lbs. and 6,000 lbs., in the case of cattle and 11,000 lbs., in the case of hogs and sheep. The rates for smaller car lots are somewhat higher than for the full cars, but give the shipper who has not sufficient stock available to make up full cars, an opportunity of getting the smaller quantities to the markets by rail. The new rates will apply to market centres from points in the prairie provinces within a radius of 200 miles. It will be permissible for cars to be stopped at one intermediate point in transit for completion of load, at a charge of $3.00 per car. In making the announcement the Canadian Freight Assn. stated that the new rates are in the nature of an experiment for one year.

PUBLIC PREFERENCE IS THE BEST PROOF OF VALUE

More people are buying CHEVROLET SIXES than ANY other car

because Chevrolet gives more for the money

The new Chevrolet became Canada's largest selling automobile because it offered the public outstanding value in a low priced car. Today, Chevrolet is maintaining its lead in sales—because, with prices reduced and quality unchanged, Chevrolet has increased its lead in value. For the first four months of 1932, Chevrolet has outsold the next leading car more than two-to-one.

Drive a Chevrolet—how much more it offers than you can find elsewhere in the lowest price field. Smarter styling—Chevrolet emulates the modern lines and modish fittings of expensive custom cars. Finer coachwork—for Chevrolet, alone in its field, has bodies by Fisher, with their lasting, quiet hardwood-and-steel construction. More advanced features—because of Chevrolet's Free Wheeling, silent Synchro-Mesh gear shifting and many other up-to-date advantages. A more economical engine—because with its built-in smoothness, its speed and acceleration, the Chevrolet six-cylinder power plant costs less to operate than any other automobile engine of comparable size and power. A more thoroughly proved product—because no other 1932 motor car is backed by the satisfactory road-experience of so many thousands of owners.

A Greater Value than Ever—because you can enjoy all these advantages today in any of thirteen big, quality models—at reduced prices—and on small payments spread over a period of months.

HER FAT HAD TO GO

Activity Melted It

Exercise is the enemy of fat. If you are overburdened with superfluous flesh, call on reserves of energy to fight it. Do as this lady did.

"During the past six months, I have made steady improvement in taking Kneulen Salts. I have reduced 28 lbs. in weight during that period, and have benefited greatly from greater agility and liveliness—all directly attributable to that famous preparation." Mrs. W. F.

You can take off fat with Kneulen Salts if you will take one-half teaspoon in hot water every morning before breakfast, modify your diet and exercise regularly.

While you are losing fat you will be gaining in energy—endurance—in ambition. Your skin will grow clearer, and your eyes will sparkle with the good health that Kneulen brings. The old aim chain won't hold you any more—you'll want to be up and doing, you'll enjoy work and active recreation and you'll sleep like a top. You'll lose fat, and probably five years longer.

Saskatchewan Government Provides For Temporary Curtailment Of Remedies In View Of Conditions

The following information is published by the authority of the Hon. W. C. Budge, Minister of Agriculture of the Government of the Province of Saskatchewan.

Taxes: Title to land sold for taxes will not be issued until June 15th, 1932, unless the municipality or council has exempted the land from the provision of the Act passed for the protection of land owners. Under the new Act authorizing the postponement of issue of certificate of title to land sold for taxes, any owner of land lying within a municipality sold for taxes in 1929, or in any preceding year, in respect of which a certificate of title has not been issued, may make application to the council of the municipality within which the land lies for a certificate postponing the issue of certificate of title to the land until the thirtieth day of November, 1932. If the council fails or refuses to grant the application and to issue the certificate of postponement, the owner may apply to a judge of the district court for the required certificate, and the decision of the judge in the matter shall be final. If you are unable to take an appeal before a Judge of the District Court, you may take the Debt Adjustment Commissioner for assistance.

If your land has been sold for taxes in the year 1929, or any preceding year, you are advised to consult the Secretary-Treasurer of your Rural Municipality, or Council, without delay, because after June 15th, if a certificate is not made to you, title to your land may pass to the purchaser of the tax sale certificate.

The following real and personal property of an execution debtor and his family is free from seizure by virtue of all writs of execution, namely:

1. The necessary and ordinary clothing of himself and his family.

2. Furniture, household furnishings and dairy utensils, to the extent of five hundred dollars.

3. The necessary food for the family of the execution debtor during six months, which may include grain, root vegetables and meat either prepared for use or in bulk.

4. Four oxen, horses or mules, or any four of them, six cows, six sheep, four pigs, and fifty domestic fowl, besides the animals the execution debtor may have chosen to keep for food purposes, and fared for the same for the months of November, December, January, February, March and April, or for such of these months or portions thereof as may be followed.

5. The necessary tools for four animals, one wagon or two carts, one mower or cradle and scythe, one breaking plough, one cross plough, one set of harrows, one horse rake, one sewing machine, one reaper or binder, one set of sleighs and one sled drill.

6. The books of a professional man.

7. The tools and necessary implements to the extent of two hundred dollars used by the execution debtor in the practice of his trade or profession.

8. Seed grain sufficient to sow all his arable cultivation not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres, at the rate of two bushels per acre, dependent to have choice of seed and to be stored in bulk, of potatoes, shall be exempt.

9. The household provided the same be not more than one hundred and sixty acres; in case it be more the surplus may be sold subject to any lien or encumbrance thereon.

10. The house and buildings occupied by the execution debtor and also the lot or lots on which the same are situated according to the registered plan of the same, to the extent of three thousand dollars.

In the event of a chattel mortgage having been given covering houses, machinery, etc., the debtor is still protected under the Exemptions Act for the chattels mentioned above. Should the subject matter of the judgment upon which an execution is issued, represent the amount due on mortgages, horses, etc., then such articles are not exempt.

In view of prevailing conditions, the Government of the Province of Saskatchewan deemed it necessary to provide for the temporary curtailment of remedies for the enforcement of payment of certain debts, and therefore enacted the Debt Adjustment Act, 1932. This Act extends protection to residents of the province who are actual residents of and personally bona fide engaged in, or the principal part of whose means is derived from farming operations in the province, or urban residents who own their residences, or who are purchasers of their residence under an agreement for sale or who are retail merchants and who are the executors or administrators of deceased residents if the beneficiaries or any of them are resident in the province.

This Act is for the purpose of assisting debtors who are having difficulties with their creditors. The Commissioner, who administers the Act, endeavours to settle such difficulties but in the event of a being impossible to arrive at an amicable settlement, the Commissioner is authorized

Says Mrs. Dougherty: "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Built Me Up"

Wrought Marvelous Change

Brantford, Ont., Oct. 11.—"I was in a terribly nervous condition (in my condition) very pale and with no ambition. I took three boxes of the Pills and began to feel like a new woman. No trouble to do my housework. The Pills built me up and put me in first-class condition."

Mrs. Richard Rush, Robin, Man, writes: "Diphtheria left our daughter, Betty, a nervous wreck. She was unable to continue at school. I gave her Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and the change in her was marvelous. She is enjoying splendid health, and we do feel that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills saved her life."

Don't allow yourself or your daughter to be robbed of health and vigor. Take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They are no temporary relief. They banish run-down or nervous conditions by creating new blood, which imparts strength, vigor and vitality. See at your druggist's.

To issue a certificate which would stop any legal proceedings by the creditor leading to the seizure of chattels under chattel mortgage, foreclosure of mortgages, and cancellation of agreements for sale, also release of articles bought under conditional sale agreements and lien notes. The Act, however, does not apply to actions which have been decided before the case is referred to the Debt Adjustment Commissioner. It does, however, apply to foreclosure actions, cancellation of agreements for sale, etc. Where final order has not been issued by the courts.

In the event of a certificate being issued, the resident must comply with the Commissioner's directions as to the disposition of his property.

The Commissioner of the Debt Adjustment Act is authorized to act as Custodian and Trustee under the Bankruptcy Act of any farmer who is so badly involved that there are no prospects of his being able to pay his debts, then the Commissioner can arrange for bankruptcy proceedings. The farmer is required to make a deposit of an amount which will take care of the cash disbursements, but no fees are charged for services of the Department.

The rights of mortgages under crop leases are also restricted this year in that no lease shall affect more than one-third of the crop unless the mortgagee has purchased the seed and pays the cost of threshing and a share of the cost of binder twine proportionate to the share of the crop to which he is entitled under the mortgage. A farmer who leases, purchases or mortgages under any lease, agreement of sale or mortgage, made in the year 1932, out of the share of the crop belonging to the lender or mortgagee, pay one year's taxes upon the land on which the crop is grown, and in such case, upon production of the receipt of the municipality for such payment, the lender, creditor or mortgagee shall be entitled only to his one-third share of the crop less the amount shown upon such receipt.

Seizures under any lien agreement, or conditional sale agreement under the Farm Mortgage Act, or the Conditional Sales Act, must be made by the sheriff of the judicial district in which the property is situated, or made, or under his direction. Generally, this applies to articles bought on the time payment plan such as farm machinery, automobiles, washing machines, cream separators, horses and cattle.

The vendor's right to recovery of unpaid purchase money on articles sold after April 13th, 1932, on credit, or partly for cash and partly on credit, and if the vendor has a lien thereon, is restricted to his lien upon the articles sold and his right of re-possession of such articles unless in the case of sale of land with chattels upon an entire consideration. In other words, if you buy a plow on the time payment plan and cannot meet the payments, the vendor can repossess the plow, but cannot take action against you for the unpaid balance.

The Debt Adjustment Act does not afford protection to urban dwellers who live in rented houses or apartments.

Information regarding the rights and remedies of debtors will be cheerfully given by Commissioner, Debt Adjustment Act, Regina.

Used Right Built

A widow, the owner of a small shop, was usually escorted home by an admirer who carried the cash-bag containing the day's takings. It was always heavy.

"You must be doing well," said the man frequently.

"Oh, yes," the widow would reply, "it's a good business."

But she did not disclose the fact that besides the moderate takings the bag contained the counter weights. The canny lover only discovered that fact after marriage.

Disabilities Of Government

Administrations Face Great Difficulties Under Economic Stress

There was a time, not long ago, when democratic governments faced simple issues. So long as the problems before electorates were dealt with mainly with extension of the suffrage, with the removal of religious disabilities and with the breakdown of inherited privilege, the voter was confronted with a limited number of straightforward questions, to which, by marking his ballot appropriately, he replied with a plain "yes" or "no." The questions themselves were within his comprehension; his answers could, with no great difficulty, be translated into law.

Today this is no longer so. The most important questions, which governments and the peoples who support them now face, are not political but economic. They are concerned, not with the suffrage, but with the direction of industry; not with religious disabilities, but with the gold standard; not with inherited privilege, but with restrictions upon the freedom of trade. Anything that is done with reference to these problems involves intricate and detailed questions of administration. Whatever decisions are made and carried out, the reactions to them are complex and affect every detail of the national life. The most important consequences of any policy may well prove to be, not those that were foreseen by the framers of policy but those that were unexpected.

The successful working of democratic institutions is thus infinitely more difficult at present, alike for the voters and those representing them, than at any time since democratic government began. A system that functioned with comparative ease and smoothness in the 19th century, now functions under great strain in the 20th. It is a number of western countries, young and old, in Europe and Asia, where democracy has been succeeded by dictatorship. Democratic institutions are still intact in many countries.

But even in certain of these, it is becoming increasingly clear that legislative machinery, designed for the formulation of public opinion in normal times on issues not of an emergency character, gives insufficient scope to leadership in a great economic crisis.—"Monthly Review," Bank of Nova Scotia.

Recipes For This Week

(By Betty Barclay)

COFFEE HAVARIAN CREAM

One tablespoon gelatine, 1/4 cup cold water, 1 pt. whipping cream, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 cup strong brewed coffee, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, a pinch of salt. Soak gelatine in cold water 5 minutes. Dissolve in hot coffee, then add sugar. Set bowl containing mixture in pan of cold water and stir until it begins to thicken. Add cream, beaten until stiff, and flavoring. Turn into wet mold and chill.

JELLIED TONGUE

Wash and scrub a beef tongue in salted water and boil until tender. Remove skin and place the tongue in a saucepan. Add two onions, one stalk of celery, four cloves, and salt and pepper. Cover with liquor in which tongue was boiled. Add one blade of mace, one bunch of thyme, one bunch of parsley and one teaspoon sugar. Simmer for two hours. Remove tongue. For each pint of the liquor add one tablespoon of gelatine that has been soaked in cold water. Stir for two minutes over very low flame. Strain and pour over tongue. Chill thoroughly, garnish with watercress, and serve.

Preparing For Conference

Preparations for the Imperial Economic Conference are going forward. A sub-committee of the Dominion Council, and four committees made up largely of departmental experts, have been constituted to arrange for the empire meeting.

When vegetables are cooked, 50 per cent. of the mineral content is transferred to the cooking water, and therefore this water is useful in soups, gravies and other foods.

Magnesium powder is used for fireworks and illumination bombs.

THE HOUSE OF DREAMS-COME-TRUE

— BY —

MARGARET FEDLER

Burke lifted the key into the lock of the door and turned it suddenly.

"You prin little thing! I was only teasing you," he said. "Do you mean you're really as frightened as all that of what people may say? I thought you were above minding gossip of ill-natured scoundrelmongers."

Jean gazed eagerly at the excuse. It would serve to hide the real motive of her impulsive action.

"No woman can afford to ignore scandal," she answered quickly. "After all, a woman's happiness depends mostly on her reputation."

Burke's eyes narrowed suddenly. He looked at her speculatively, as though her words had suggested a new train of thought, but he made no comment. Somewhat abstractedly he opened the door and allowed her to pass out and down the stairs. Outside the door of the inn they found the mare and dog-cart in charge of an ostler.

"The mare's foot's rather badly torn, sir," volunteered the man, but the blacksmith thinks she'll travel all right. Far to go, sir?"

"Nine or ten miles," responded Burke laconically.

He was curiously silent on the way home. It was as though the chain of reasoning started by Jean's comment on the relation scandal bears to a woman's happiness still absorbed him. His brows were knit together morosely.

Jean supposed he was probably reproaching himself for his conduct that afternoon. After all, she reflected, he was normally a man of decent instincts, and though the flood-tide of his passion had swept him into taking advantage of the circumstances which had flung them together in the solitude of the little inn, he would be the first to agree, when in a less lawless frame of mind, that his conduct had been unpardonable. Although, even from that, one could not premise that he would not be equally culpable another time!

Bliss had proved painfully correct in his estimate of the dangers attaching to unexploded bombs. Jean admitted it to herself ruefully. And she was honest enough also to admit that, with his warning ringing in her ears and with the memory of what had happened in the rose-garden to illumine it, she herself was not altogether clear of blame for the incidents of the afternoon.

She had played with Burke, even encouraged him to a certain extent, allowing him to be in her company far more frequently than was altogether wise, considering the circumstance of his hot-headed love for her.

It was somewhat of a mental start of surprise that she found herself seeking for excuses for his behaviour—actually trying to supply adequate reasons why she should overlook it!

His brooding, sulky silence as he drove along, mile after mile, was not without its appeal to the inherent femininity of her. He did not try to excuse or palliate his conduct, made no attempt to sue for forgiveness. He loved her and he had let her see it; manlike, he had taken what the opportunity offered. And she didn't suppose he regretted it.

The faintest smile twitched the corners of her lips. Burke was not the type of man to regret an unlawful kiss or two!

She was conscious that—as usual, where he was concerned—her virtuous indignation was cooling away in the most discreditable and hopeless fashion. There was an audacious charm about the man, an attractiveness that would not be denied in the hot-headed way he went, all out, for what he wanted.

Other women besides Jean had found it equally difficult to resist. His sheer virility, with its splendid disregard for other people's claims and its consciousness belief that the battle should assuredly be to the strong, earned him forgiveness where, for misdeeds not half so flagrant, a less imperious sinner would have been promptly shown the door.

No woman—not even the women to whom he made love without excuse of love—had ever shown Burke the door or given him the kind of treatment which he had thoroughly well merited twenty times over. And Jean was no exception to the rule.

At least he had some genuine claim on her forgiveness—the claim of a love which had swept through his very being like a flame, the fierce passion of a man to whom love means adoration, worship—above all, possession.

And what woman can ever long remain angry with a man who loves her—and whose very offence is the outcome of the overmastering quality of that love? Very few, and certainly none who was so very much a woman, so essentially feminine as Jean.

It was in a very small voice, which she endeavoured to make airily detached, that she at last broke the silence which had reigned for the last six miles or so.

"I suppose I shall have to forgive you—more or less. One can't exactly quarrel with one's next door neighbour."

Burke smiled grimly.

"Can't one?"

"Well, there's Judith to be considered."

A rather curious expression came into his eyes.

"Yes," he agreed. "There's Judith to be considered." There was a hint of irony in the dry tones.

"It would compromise matters if I were not on speaking terms with her brother," pursued Jean.

She waited for his answer, but none came. The threatened possibility contained in her speech seemed to have fallen on deaf ears, and the silence seemed likely to continue indefinitely.

Jean prompted him gently.

"You might, at least, say you are sorry for—"

"For kissing you?"—swiftly.

"Yes."—flushing a little.

"But I'm not kissing you"—with deliberation—"is one of the things I shall never regret. When I come to make my peace with Heaven and repent in sackcloth and ashes for my sins of omission and commission, I shan't include this afternoon in the list. I assure you. It was worth it if I pay for it afterwards in hell."

He was silent a moment. Then:

"But I'll promise you one thing. I'll never kiss you again till you give me your lips yourself."

Jean smiled at the characteristic speech. She supposed this was as near an apology as Burke would ever get.

"That's all right, then," she replied composedly. "Because I shall never do that."

He flicked the chestrut lightly with the whip.

"I think you will," he said. "I think," he looked at her somewhat enigmatically—"that you will give me everything I want—some day."

CHAPTER XXIII.

On the Side Of The Angels

Throughout the day following that of the expedition to Dartmoor, Nick seemed determined to keep out of Jean's way. It was as though he feared she might force some confidence from him that he was loth to give, and, in consequence, deliberately avoided being alone with her.

On the second day, however, as luck would have it, she encountered him in the corridor just outside her own sitting-room. He was striding blindly along, obviously not heeding where he was going, and had almost collided with her before he realized that she was there.

He jerked himself backwards.

"I beg your pardon," he muttered, still without looking at her, and made an attempt to pass on.

Jean checked him with a hand on his sleeve. She had not watched the dogged stubbornness of his face throughout yesterday to no purpose, and now, as her swift gaze searched it anew, she was convinced that something fresh had occurred to stir him. It was impossible for Jean to see a friend in trouble without wanting to "stand by."

"Nick, old thing, what's wrong?" she asked.

He stared at her unseeing.

"Wrong?" he muttered. "Wrong?"

"Yes. Come in here and let's talk it out—whatever it is." With gentle insistence she drew him into her sitting-room.

"Now," she said, when she had established him in an easy-chair by the open window and herself in another, "what's gone wrong? Are you still boiling over about that trick Sir Archibald played on Claire the day of the picnic?"

She spoke lightly—more lightly than the occasion warranted—of set purpose, hoping to reduce the tension under which Nick was obviously labouring. His face hurt her. The familiar icy assurance which was half his charm was blotted out of it by some heavy cloud tragic significance. He looked as though he had not slept for days, and his eyes, the gleamed sunken out of them by pain, seemed buried in his head.

He stared at her blankly for a moment. Then he seemed to awaken to the meaning of her question.

Little Helps For This Week

"Your heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of all these things."—Matthew vi. 32.

The dear God hears and pities all; He knoweth all our wants; And what we blindly ask of Him, His love withholds or grants.

And so I sometimes think our prayers Might well be merged in one: And nest and perch, and hearth and church.

Repeat, "Thy will be done!"—John Greenleaf Whittier.

What Christ's prayer was, all true prayer must be; you must pray with the great prayer in sight. You must feel the mountains above you while you work upon your little garden. Little by little your special wishes and the eternal will of God will grow in harmony with one another; all conflict will die away, and the great spiritual landscape from horizon to horizon will be but one—Lucy Larcom.

Douglas' Egyptian Liniment is especially recommended for spider, or injection of cow's test. Invaluable also in cases of sprains, curbs and splints.

Mountain View Notes

Don't forget the dance to be held in Community Hall on June 24th. Good music and a good floor.

Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Atkinson, accompanied by Miss Brown, were visitors to Nisbet district Saturday. Owing to mosquitoes the arranged picnic had to be held indoors.

In future, pigs will have to be branded, as those accused of doing damage don't prove to be the real offenders when the owner is taken to court.

Many of the residents turned out to the Legion field day last week and reported a good time, in spite of the bad roads encountered both going and returning.

Congratulations to the three Grade IX pupils of Gore school, also to Miss Wilson, their teacher. The three girls have taken the complete course and been promoted, with high averages. The names and year averages for the seven units are as follows: Evelyn Barnes 84; Nola Findley 79; Louise Shultz 72.

The monthly meeting of the W.I. was held in Community Hall on Thursday last. The usual baby clinic is not to be held this year. After the business session, Mrs. J. Worrall gave a very good paper on Canadian Industries, taking as her subject, "Salt." It was decided not to send a delegate to the Farm Women's Week at Olds this year. The Constituency Conference is being held in Didsbury next month. A very busy afternoon was brought to a pleasant close, when the hostesses, Mesdames Blain and Barnes provided a delicious lunch.

Melvin Notes

Mr. and Mrs. John Clarke spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Hosegood.

Burnside Notes.

Mr. Fred Doll spent the week-end with Master Robert Eckel.

Mr. Ralph Honey spent a day or two last week with Mr. Noah Eckel, playing in the Burnside-Olds horse shoe game.

Burnside U.F.A. is holding its annual picnic at Lone Pine Hall on June 30th. Sports in the afternoon and dance at night.

West Olds horseshoe team, consisting of Messrs. Samis, Gooder, Morrison and Pocotello came and played the Burnside team Wednesday evening last, and won the game by a very small margin.

Burnside school district turned out to a reception in Lone Pine Hall on Tuesday evening in honor of its teacher, Mr. Albert Arlenson and his bride-to-be, Miss Nellie Braelman. On behalf of the district, Captain Page made a presentation of a set of cream and green enameled kitchen utensils. Mr. Arlenson and Miss Braelman both thanked the district for their kindness. The rest of the evening was occupied in dancing.

Golf at Red Deer.

A good number of the local golfers motored to Red Deer on Sunday to take part in the third round of the Herald Golf competition. Though all the local golfers are out of the running for the championship, they enjoyed playing in this competition.

Low scores were:
 J. Welch, Red Deer 79; Dr. Wagner, Innisfail 82; H. Tenre, Lacombe and R. B. Welliver, Red Deer 87; P. Hill, Innisfail 89; C. Cook and C. M. Huget, Didsbury 91; Boddy, Red Deer 95.

J. Welch, Red Deer, with a total score of 240, leads by four strokes over Dr. Wagner, Innisfail.

The final game will be played on Sunday, June 26th over the Innisfail Golf and Country Club course.

Didsbury Loses 11-3 To Olds, at Baseball

The first senior baseball of the season was played here Wednesday night last, when the home team lost to Olds 11-3 in a game that was halted by rain in the eighth inning.

The visitors ran in four runs in the first inning to one for Didsbury. The game settled down until the fourth, when the locals scored twice and barely missed tying the score. However, Olds came back to score four more runs in the next three innings to end the scoring.

Didsbury had a golden chance to make the game interesting in the seventh, when a battery rally filled the bases. With only one out, Hube Gooder pulled himself out of the hole by forcing Russell Berscht to ground out and then fanning his own brother, Bob, to end the game.

Hube Gooder twirled a nice game for Olds and was only in serious difficulty during the seventh inning. For Didsbury, Woodcock went the route and turned in a creditable performance. The local boys showed lack of practice in the pinches. Bob Gooder in centre field was outstanding.

Calgary's Request For Radio Station Being Considered

Calgary's request to Prime Minister R. B. Bennett for a high-power radio broadcasting station when the National Broadcasting system goes into effect, would undoubtedly be considered and possibly recommended by technical advisers going into the whole matter, Andrew D. MacLean, secretary to the premier informed the city council in a letter which was read at Monday night's meeting.

At the last meeting of the council the city clerk was instructed to write Mr. Bennett, requesting consideration for Calgary when broadcasting stations were being located.
